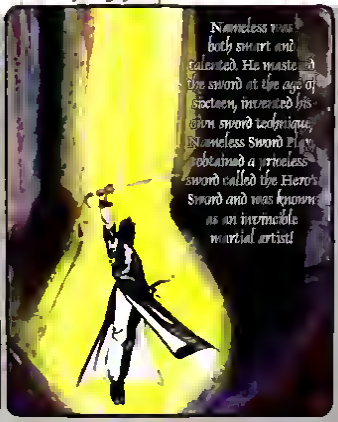
CHAPTER 15
THE HERO WITHOUT A NAME

NAMELESS HERO'S SWORD

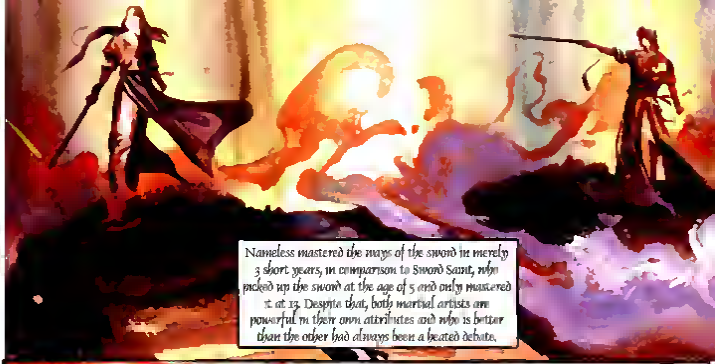
A LEGEND OF THE MARTIAL ARTS WORLD

He was adopted to be a son of a high official, who gave him a name.
Much later, this high official betrayed his country for glory and wealth.
Disagreeing with the actions of his adoptive father, the orphan severed all ties, denounced his adoptive name and called himself...
The protagonist is one of this legend is an orphan.
Nameless

When he was nineteen, Nameless got married. At that time, his technique and power was even above that of his masters. The only martial artist he has yet beaten was the similarly invincible Sword Saint!



Nameless was both smart and talented. He mastered the sword at the age of sixteen, invented his own sword technique, Nameless Sword Play, obtained a priceless sword called the Heroic Sword and was known as an invincible martial artist!

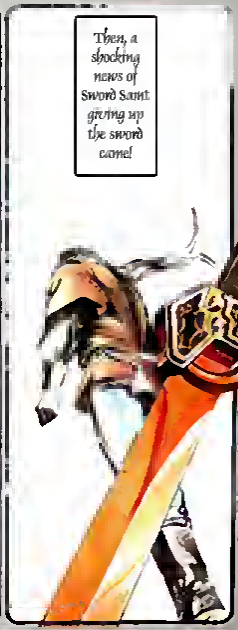


Nameless mastered the ways of the sword in merely 3 short years, in comparison to Sword Saint, who picked up the sword at the age of 5 and only mastered it at 13. Despite that, both martial artists are powerful in their own attributes and who is better than the other had always been a heated debate.

Nameless's sword play was without mercy. Every single swing of his sword had the intent to kill and because of that many had died under his hands, forming a huge band of people seeking revenge for those who died.

His popularity brought jealousy-ridden hatred against him. The three largest martial arts house and the 7 largest clan all wished him dead. They sought his death with the pretext of revenge but what they really wanted, was the glory they would gain by defeating the invincible Nameless.
A bloody war ensued, of which Nameless emerged victorious while the opposing clan heads were killed or badly injured.

With Sword Saint retreating from the fight, Nameless became undoubtly the most powerful man in the martial arts arena. He ruled the martial arts scene with skill, glory and wealth!



Then, a shocking news of Sword Saint giving up the sword came!

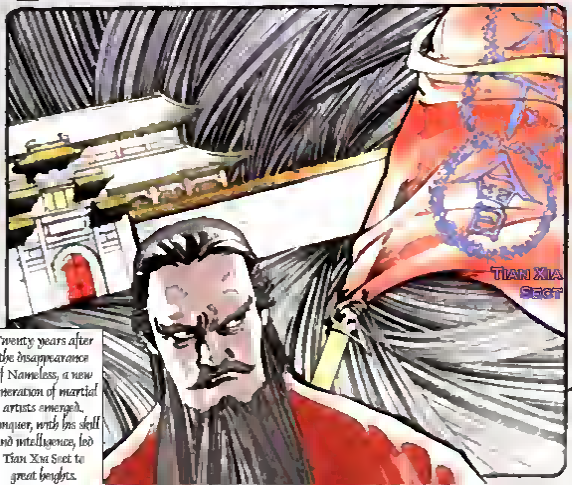
Nameless searched everywhere for the culprit to no avail, leaving him distraught and regretful of his recklessness and ignorance. In the end, he too disappeared from the martial arts arena.

However there are still many of his enemies. They manage to kill the Sword Saint.

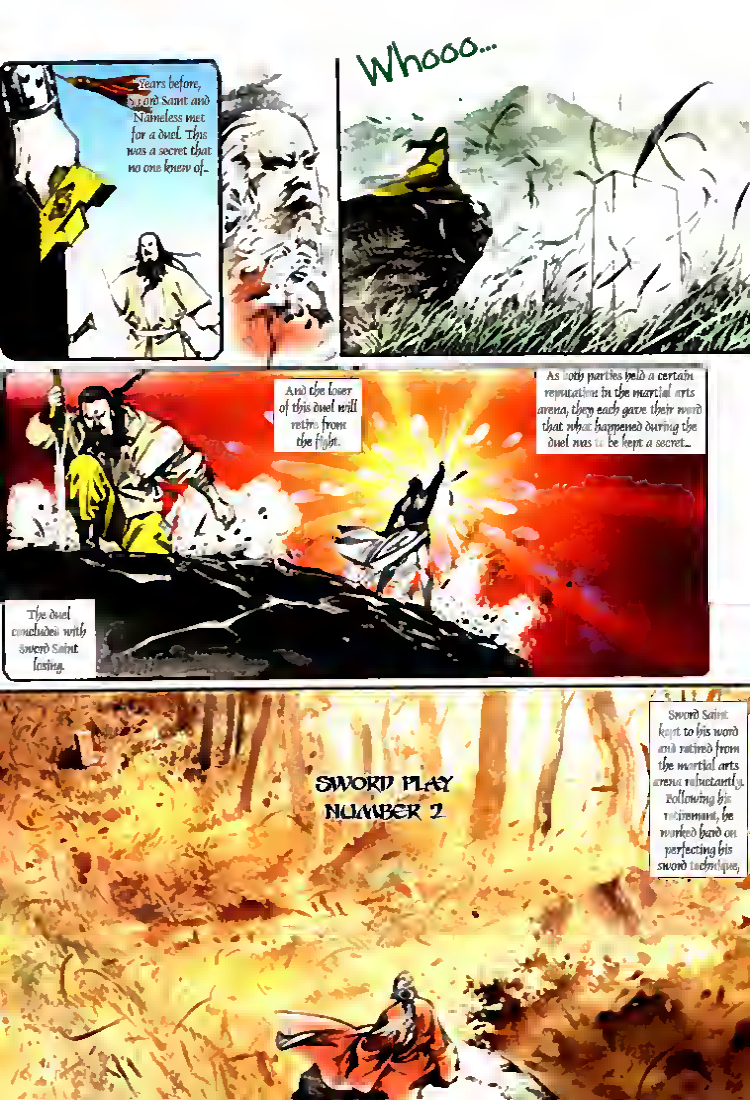
Nameless led a life of glory and victory, but in the 5 years after his wife passed away he turned into a fading star, falling and disappearing. Despite his disappearance, this story of his stayed as an unforgettable legend.

Nameless was to challenge the head of martial arts clans. Every challenge would mean that no one will join that clan for fear of getting killed by Nameless. With that, Nameless left us to make a situation, where many masterful martial arts techniques died with the clans' elders, for there was no one to pass it down to.

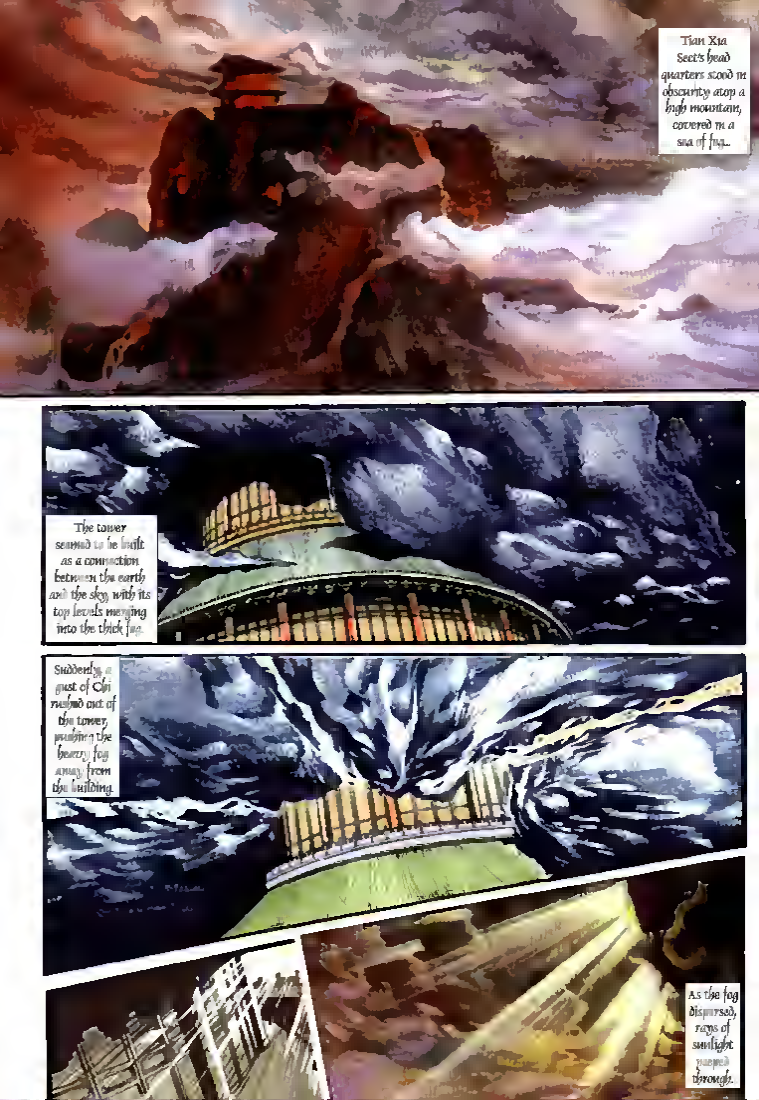
While many feared him to be dead, such a powerful character still left a lasting impression.



Twenty years after the disappearance of Nameless, a new generation of martial artists emerged. Conquer, with his skill and intelligence, led Tian Xia Sect to great heights.



Years before, Sword Saint and Nameless met for a duel. This was a secret that no one knew of..
Whooo...
And the loser of this duel will retire from the fight.
As both parties held a certain reputation in the martial arts arena, they each gave their word that what happened during the duel was to be kept a secret...
The duel concludes with Sword Saint losing.
SWORD PLAY NUMBER 2
Sword Saint kept to his word and retired from the martial arts arena reluctantly. Following his retirement, he worked hard on perfecting his sword technique.



Tian Xia Sect's head quarters stood in obscurity atop a high mountain, covered in a sea of fog...
The tower seemed to be built as a connection between the earth and the sky, with its top levels merging into the thick fog.
Suddenly a gust of Chi rushed out of the tower, pushing the heavy fog away from the building.
As the fog dispersed, rays of sunlight poured through.

Disciples outside the tower stood watching the seemingly miraculous fighting.

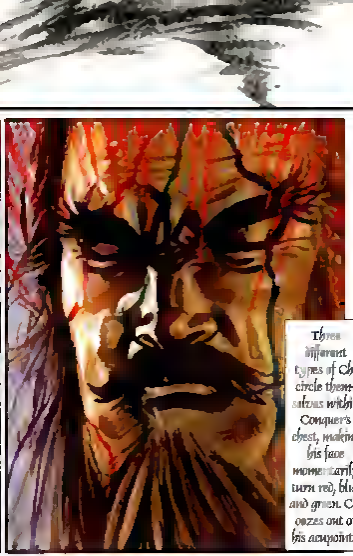
As soon as the flow of Chi had dissipated, the fog surrounded the tower once more...

Conquer was hard in practice, getting ready for his fight with Sword Saint. He hoped to perfect his own internal Chi technique of the Three Parts Heavenly Point -
THREE PARTS
UNION CHI
TECHNIQUE

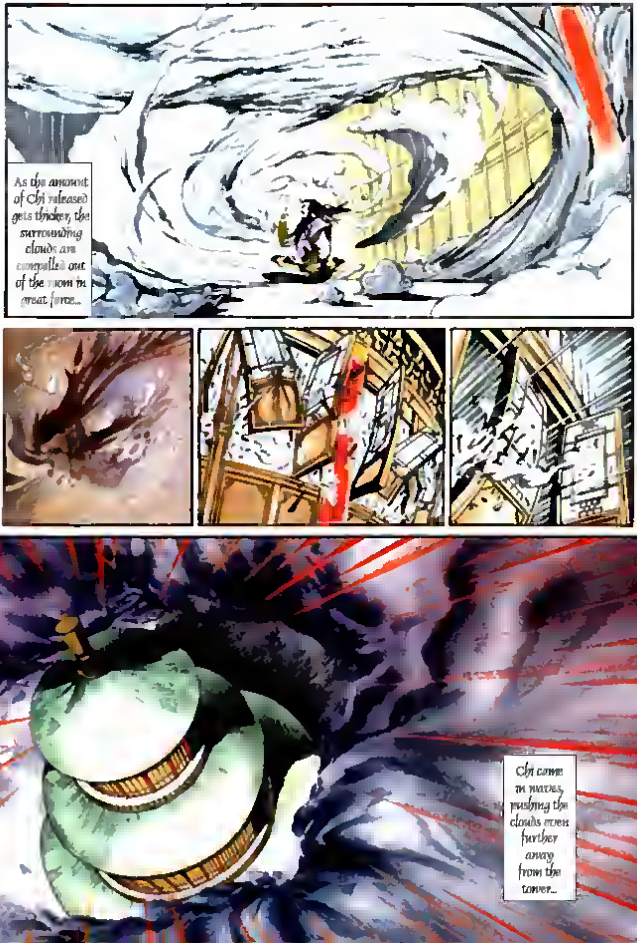
At the roof of the tower, Conquer sat practising the art of mastering Chi. The fog swirled around him, following the Chi that emerged from his body.

On top of that, releasing such powerful Chi with the heavenly point method, concentrates its power. The union of the chi of three disparate techniques can be called a miracle, resulting in a miraculously powerful energy.
"Three parts" refers to the flexibility of Wind God Legs, the aggression of Moving Clouds Palm and the cold but powerful chi energy of Heavenly Frost Palm. "Union" refers to the combination of the Chi characteristics of the three techniques, producing a deadly Three Parts Union Chi technique!

As Chi entered from his body, it pushed the clouds further away from his body.



Three different types of Chi circle themselves within Conquer's chest, making his face momentarily turn red, blue and green. Chi oozes out of his acupoints.

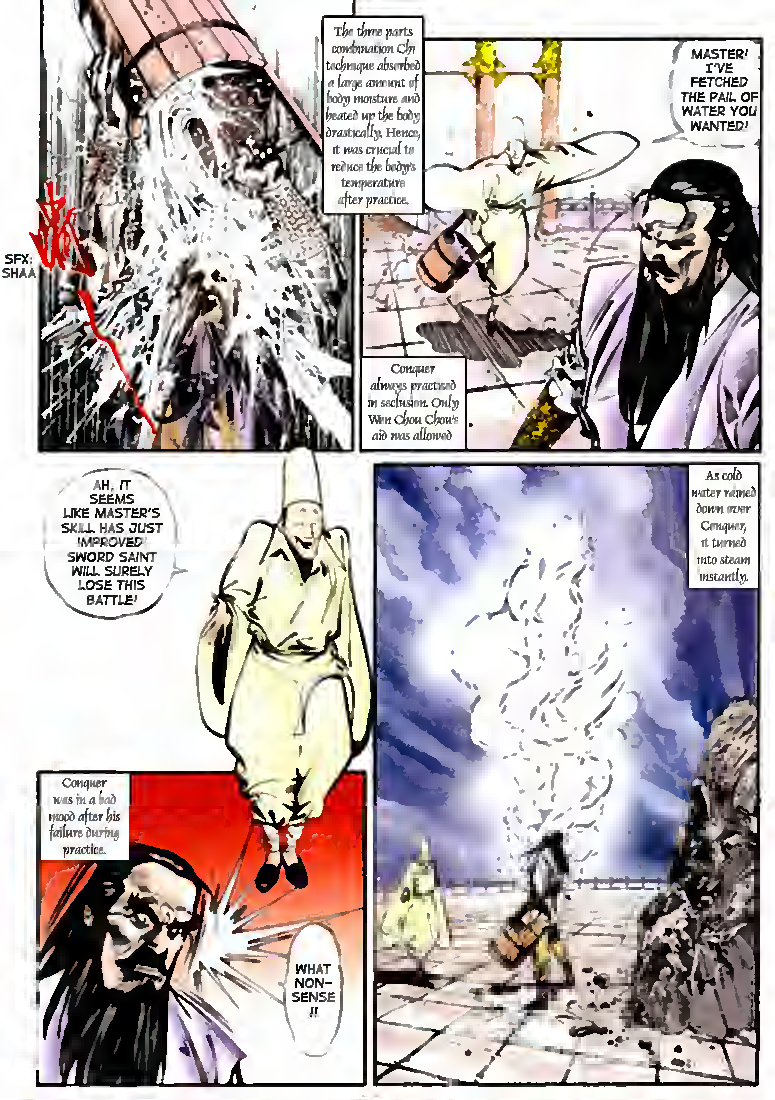


As the amount of Chi released gets thicker, the surrounding clouds are compelled out of the room in great force...
Chi came in waves, pushing the clouds even further away from the tower...

Sun rays shone through the parted clouds, revealing a miracle like scene.
HNG!
As the Chi within his chest calmed, he mustered the combination of Chi into his finger tips.

AAAHH!
Using just 10 percent of the power, Conquer shot a flow of Chi at a huge rock!
BANG!
This combination Chi technique was released aggressively, but changing its flow mid-way towards the target made it difficult to control. At this moment, the uncontrollable Chi shattered the golden armour on Conquer's arm!
The Chi was so powerful that it pulled Conquer together with it towards the rock. As the force was too strong to stop, he attempted to spread the Chi on the rock's surface.
A look of disappointment flashed across Conquer's face at his failed attempt to control the Chi.
Despite the incomplete union of the 3 different chi, its power was still incredibly strong, cutting through the thick rock in separate Chi paths.

Conquer had also been jealous of Sword Saint's skill level. When he teamed up with the Invincible Fort Sect then, his motif was to get closer to Sword Saint, in bid to find a way to defeat him.
It was only after discovering that Sword Saint had left the martial arts arena and the Invincible Fort Sect that Conquer gave up on the thought of wanting to beat Sword Saint.
I SHOULD NOT BE TOO ANXIOUS ANXIETY WILL ONLY LEAD TO A BACK FIRING OF THE TECH-NIQUE
However, he never fathomed that Sword Saint would issue him a challenge out of the blue, giving Conquer a lot of pressure!
JINGLE
JINGLE



The three parts combination Chi technique absorbed a large amount of body moisture and heated up the body drastically. Hence, it was crucial to reduce the body's temperature after practice.
MASTER! I'VE FETCHED THE PAIL OF WATER YOU WANTED!
Conquer always practised in seclusion. Only Wen Chou Chou's aid was allowed
SFX: SHAA
AH.. IT SEEMS LIKE MASTER'S SKILL HAS JUST IMPROVED! SWORD SAINT WILL SURELY LOSE THIS BATTLE!
As cold water rained down over Conquer, it turned into steam instantly.
Conquer was in a bad mood after his failure during practice.
WHAT NON-SENSE !!

MASTER! IN MY HUMBLE OPINION, SWORD SAINT LEFT HIS TREASURED SWORD IN OUR COMPOUND MERELY TO INSTILL FEAR. YOU NEED NOT WORRY TOO MUCH!
Wen Chun Chou was usually witty and good with pleasing Conquer with his sweet words but Conquer's reaction this time had him taken aback.
HM ...
FRANKLY SPEAKING, MASTER'S OUTSTANDING SKILLS ARE A GIFT FROM GOD. HOW CAN SWORD SAINT BE WORTHY OF IT? MASTER, YOU SHOULD NOT WORRY OVER IT!
HAHA! WELL SAID! THIS IS ALL DESTINY! I AM NOT DESTINED TO BE DEFEATED BY THAT OLD MAN!

A cold shiver went down Wen Chou Chou's spine. He knew that he had spoken out of place.

He was willing to pay any price to retract those words, even if it meant that he would turn mute.

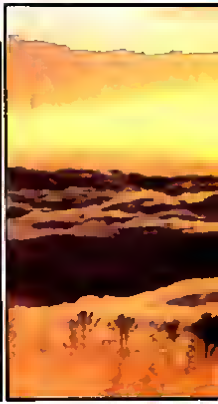
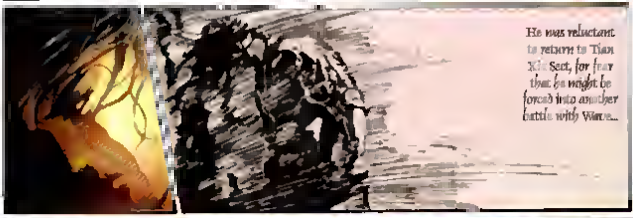
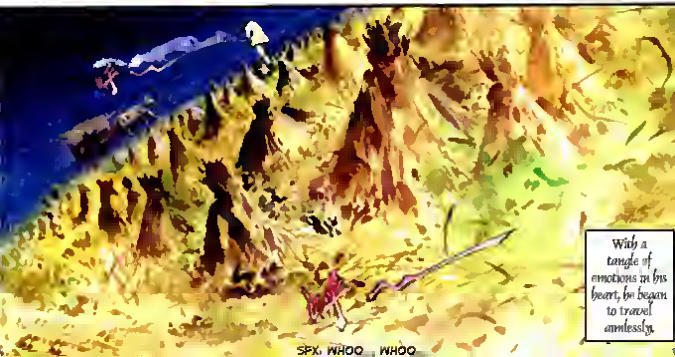
As the rage of insanity subsided, it left Wind with a host of uncertain measure of what he should be doing next.





He was reluctant to return to Tian Xie Sect, for fear that he might be forced into another battle with Wave...



With a tangle of emotions in his heart, he began to travel aimlessly.
SFX: WHOO... WHOO...

Oh cool breeze, you make this day so bright and festival

Driving a bull cart was a stout man singing a jovial song.
Without much thought, Wind jumped aboard the cart.

Oh you're so sweet and beautiful. I love you, my lady
Jaws, born with several eyes and a large mouth.

A stranger settled down noiselessly beside Wind. Such light movement hints of a skilled martial artist but Wind pretended to be unaware.
